

Bumbly Bee's Big Adventure

Luke Eastwood

Bumbly Bee lived in the countryside in a lovely big hive with all his friends.
All day Bumbly and the other bees flew from flower to flower collecting pollen for making honey. At the end of each day they were very tired from all that buzzing around and so Bumbly and his friends would fly home and go straight to bed.

One fine sunny morning Bumbly Bee got up early and went off on his own to go to the far-away meadow, which was full of his favourite flowers - buttercups.
He flew off all by himself and before long he was far away from the hive and his friends.
